FROM THE EDITOR!
 "UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"

On Monday, the price of a barrel of oil was at -$13.40 a barrel! That means that we should be getting paid to fill up! Well, everywhere else outside Commiefornia. Things are really getting strange out there and I am not really sure at this point how to read it. Our nations businesses are in harms way, many will never reopen their doors. It is a shame that you have individuals that are in elected positions that seem to be cheering on our failure financially. It seems that the only ones, who at the moment, are drawing a paycheck are government officials. Everyone else is screwed! Nancy Pelosi was bragging about having this time to visit with her grandchildren. Everyone else has been told that you could be putting your life in danger by visiting with grandchildren and other family members. Pelosi, wonderful woman she is, showed off her $25,000.00 refrigerator and her many cartons of $12.00 a pint ice cream. I don't think she is missing a paycheck or anything else that the rest of us have given up. Riddle for you!
What is the difference between Nancy Pelosi and a wet sack of shit? The answer is simple!

Hello my Friends!

Hope everyone is doing well staying home? It is a strain to be locked up and looking at 4 walls. If you take advantage of the time, you can change the 4 walls into a variety of things! Use your imagination. All of you are in my prayers, until next wk. Stay safe & God bless

Poet Laurel Stamps

My Mother wrote these poems before she passed in 2013 and now I'm sharing them with you, Enjoy!

Task

Sometimes we try to do our best, Sometimes we can't prevail

The task becomes too difficult And though we try, we fail

We take great pride in doing tasks That need effort to complete

And when we do a harder job Our best is what we seek

I wish all tasks had labels That would tell us in advance

What's doable and not doable Giving a clue to successes, chance

But if we knew before hand What jobs would be too much

The easy tasks would all get done And the tough ones go untouched

That is why we should deal with

All tasks both big and small And give our best efforts

And try to complete them all

So don't have a fear of failure When facing tasks galore

Just do your best and remember Only you are keeping score
