FROM THE EDITOR!
"UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"
It is now up to the Supreme Court to determine if the Pro. 8 that passed a few years ago is unconstitutional. And the beat goes on! It amazes me that 9 people think that they have such great knowledge to tell 52% of the voters in California that they got it wrong. Equal rights! I agree that everyone should be treated fairly and equally under the law. You don't really see that, since the people who pass the laws consider themselves above the law. We have bigger issues at hand right now, such as, creating jobs. We waste more time on dribble than I can imagine. Does anyone else see, other than myself, that we are in a spiral? Why we let Idiots run wild, chasing after crap, is beyond me. We need to sit down, make a list, see what really works and discard the rest. Trim back on ridiculous projects that do nothing to really save the economy or really help protect Mother Nature. I really think that as a whole, we have lost our flipping minds! Obama is still not stepping up to the plate and doing anything that will really benefit the American Citizens. Congress is a joke. North Korea wants to blow us into the next Stone Age and the Arab world wants to use those stones to finish us off. Maybe if we are lucky, one of those Asteroids that have barely missed us will actually come in close enough to give the entire world a wake up call. We could all have a share of the pie, if everyone did their best and got off their ample posteriors and tried to be a little more productive. I wonder what people a 100 years from now will think of us when they read what we have not accomplished in History books. The world that we are leaving to our youth is in such a mess, it will take at least 10 generations to try and sort it out. I am glad that I am on the down side when it comes to number of years left. I hope the new generation can get it right.
I would like to hear your thoughts 760-298-0902
