FROM THE EDITOR!
 "UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"

By now I know that everyone has heard about the terrible event at LAX. It is sad that the TSA Agent lost his life. The passengers who were still on the TARMAC, without a clue as to what was going on, had to endure the hardship of waiting without any official response as to what had happened. After the Shooter was taken down, there was no reason other than the panic and stupidity that took over, that they were not permitted to exit their planes and get the airport back in business. The Airport Chief of Police seemed on overwhelm and playing second fiddle to Chief Charlie Beck from the L. A. P. D., who seemed to be as confused as anyone else. I am glad that I don't fly. I really don't have any faith in the System to look after me and my family and keep us safe. The irony of the event is, according to the News Media, the Agent who was killed was a Profiler to detect suspicious behavior in people entering the facility. Go figure! I think that the idea of arming TSA agents is a big mistake. If more agents there had firearms, the number of citizens that could and probably would have been shot is astronomical! TSA is not the one that I want in my corner when the "Ship Hits The Sand"! I did see a young man being interviewed by the media and his response made my blood run cold. He stated that it is up to his generation to get rid of guns in the hands of law abiding citizens. The new generation is being Brain Washed by Big Brother and don't have a clue! CALL ME!
