"FROM THE EDITOR!
 UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"

The "Town of Apple Valley" is busy making friends and influencing people! If you believe that, you are in desperate need of psychiatric help! A friend of mine opened a small business in the last couple months. He took out all the permits that the Town of Apple Valley Code Enforcement required. After spending time and quite a bit of money he was ready to open his doors. Once open, with all his banners, window lettering and what ever else in place, he was ready to attempt to make back an earning on his investment. Code Enforcement stopped by to see if he had his permit to operate, which he did, and went on their way. A few days passed and a different Code Enforcement Officer stopped in to inform him that his banners were not allowed. He took them down. A few weeks later a different Code Enforcement Officer stopped in to inform him that his sign lettering on his windows was illegal and the the main sign with his business Name and Logo, he was informed that it could not be there unless he paid another permit fee for it. Now the sign base that is there has been in place for several decades. Permit fees have been paid in the past. Now the Code Enforcement Officer handed him a list of the violations, he is still not sure what fines he will face. There was also an issue over a form of the American Flag that was flying at the street, called a feather flag, and a traditional American Flag. He was told that those had to be removed. At this he stood his ground and informed the Code Enforcement Officer that he would not take down the Traditional Flag, that he as a very young man, fought to defend in the Korean War. At that point, the Officer allowed that flag to continue to be displayed. My issue is, when an individual in today's economic short fall, why in the world are the Cities and Towns in the Hi-Desert looking to cause these business owners grief? I guess with all the wasted money that they have literally pissed through, they have to create new fees and threaten fines to keep their coffers full. I recommend that everyone should call the Cities and Towns Officials daily demanding accountability to where all the tax money has gone. Needless to say, they really hate divulging that. CALL ME!
