FROM THE EDITOR!
"UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"

The two thug police officers from Fullerton were found "Not Guilty" this week for the, without a doubt in my mind, brutal death of Kelly Thomas. Then, it is also brought to Public attention that there has never been a "Guilty" verdict against any police officers in "Orange County" for the murder of anyone or any other physical event where excessive force was used. My question is, "Was the Jury watching the same video tapes of the murderous acts that transpired, or were they "In a Coma" missing the event? Why were the other four police officers that were on site during this outrageous attack not charged as accessories in the death of Kelly Thomas? The media made a big issue about if the verdict was "Not Guilty" that the police were preparing for riots. Wait a minute, prepare for riots? We are talking about individuals that are predominately white. Whites don't riot anymore over wrong doings since the 1960's! The Fed's are rattling their sabers that they are going to see if Kelly Thomas rights were violated. It isn't "Rocket Science" the man who broke no law, had no stolen merchandise or drugs on him was beaten to death do to the actions of "Bullies with Badges"! It seems that there are two sets of rules that are in place. One for the everyday working man and the other is for the elite. We don't all live under the same rules and the result that we are seeing is "In your face" proof! If the beating that Thomas received was considered within "Police Policy", I would hate to see what the system would call excessive force. I know that there are many good Police Officers out there. Why did they not come forward with their objections? CALL ME!
