IZZY PET CARE
Personalized in home pet care
Hi my name is Isikuri Iniestra (Izzy), as a pet owner I know what it takes to care for ones pets, but with such busy schedules it's hard sometimes to find the time. That's why I'm here to help! As a certified care taker I'm trained to provide all kinds of service: walking, grooming, pet sitting, transport to appointments. My years of experience is not limited to my own pets. I have worked in animal hospitals and in households dealing with a wide variety of different animals. Let me be the one to make your pet happy.

ESPN blowhard Colin Cowherd has been sent packing after he made some disparaging remarks about Dominicans a few days ago. After much pressure from the MLBPA, ESPN, who had chosen not to re-sign Cowherd, figured it was best to let him go now and not wait until his contract expired. Via ESPN.COM "Colin Cowherd's comments over the past two days do not reflect the values of ESPN or our employees. Colin will no longer appear on ESPN." Here's what he said that got him fired. "I've never bought into the notion that baseball is too complex. Really, a 1/3rd of the sport is from the Dominican Republic. The Dominican Republic is not been known in my lifetime as having, you know, World Class Academic abilities. I mean a lot of those kids come from rough backgrounds and have not had opportunities academically that other kids from other countries have. Baseball's like many sports, it's mostly instincts." Here's the youtube link https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=R\_hQ0ynRySU I'm not a big fan of Colin, but did he deserve to be fired? Apparently, he has already been hired by FOX Sports, so he was leaving ESPN anyway. Also, ESPN has contracts with Major League Baseball to televise games. So, there was a "money grab" involved. That being said, I did find these comments offensive. But, he publicly apologized afterwards. So, the big question is, should he have gotten a second chance? He had been with the network more than a decade. The 1st comment after the youtube video was interesting. "As a Dominican this does not offend me and I don't find it even remotely racist. In the context of the point he was trying to make he was correct. The Dominican Republic has a poor public education system and infrastructure and you don't need to have high academic achievements to play baseball." So let's get to the main questions both people in the media and everybody using social media face: Who Can You Offend?

1. White People. Say whatever you want about "whitey". You're good to go.
2. Politicians. Trash them all you want. Make up stuff. No worries, no problems.
3. Celebrities. Trash em, Bash em, Verbally harass them. Everybody does. Pile on "brother".

FROM THE EDITOR! "UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"

First off, I would like to give a Shout Out to Ches, a new reader for the editorial wanted me to show respect in referring to a past President. Well, for those of you who read my editorial, that isn't going to happen. I realize that my thoughts often provoke defensive attitudes towards me. That is fine. The problem when a person tries to open conversation on many issue we face today, the responding person is paying so much attention to political or social correctness they miss the point. Our country is going down hill faster than most individuals realize. We are so captivated by the Kardashians and what ever the hell Jenner changed his name to that we over look the serious state we are in. I have stated that I will never give in to social pressure and change the way that I think or write. If that is offensive to you, then don't read my editorial. My question for the Liberal Public and Corrupt Media is, when things collapse, where are you going to live, work, eat? You have no survival skills. Running your mouth on TV or Radio will not put food on the table if you have to fend for yourself. If the disasters we have seen abroad hit here, to sum it up, YOU ARE SCREWED! I respect the fact that you have the right to disagree with me. I will always defend that right. But, to think that I'm worried about what the world thinks, you seriously need help! I heard today on talk radio that Trump will not make it to the Republican Debates. The person I was listening to is lucky to have B.S. her way into a job. Most of the media reports on crap that anyone in their right mind would not give a damn. They go out of their way to present stories about frilly topics that would not even make it in everyday conversations. I watched a program titled "Silenced" over the week end and I have to say that I was amazed that it aired. It was about all the underhanded, illegal doings of our government. How the Bush Administration is using the "Patriot Act" against everyday citizens. Bush and Channey should be put on trial for war crimes. We were told nothing other than a pack of lies to get us involved in a war we can not win. I hope that the nation as a whole at least will listen to what Trump has to say. Your rights are being stolen with no effort with everyone being socially and politically correct.
