"True Facts"

By Fred Lundgren
CEO of KCAA Radio

The President Should Seek More Advice
From the Working Wounded

President Obama should appoint a new Citizen's Economic Advisory Board comprised only of liaisons from the working wounded and take less advice from the "upper crust." According to NBC.com, the president's first term advisors were led by former Federal Reserve Chairman, Paul Volcker and staff director Austan Goolsbee. The committee was comprised primarily of people who were not personally impacted by the great recession. Let's review the list. William H. Donaldson, SEC Chair, 2003-05; Roger W. Ferguson, Jr., president and CEO, TIAA-CREF; Robert Wolf, chairman and CEO, UBS; David F. Swensen, CIO, Yale University; Mark T. Gallogly, founder and managing partner, Centerbridge Partners L.P.; Penny Pritzker, chairwoman, Pritzker Realty Group; Jeffrey R. Immelt, CEO, GE (parent company of NBC News); John Doerr, partner at Kleiner, Perkins, Caufield & Byers; Jim Owens, chairman and CEO, Caterpillar Inc.; Monica C. Lozano, publisher & chief executive officer, La Opinion; Charles E. Phillips, Jr., president, Oracle; Anna Burger, chairwoman, Change to Win; Richard L. Trumka, secretary-treasurer, AFL-CIO; Laura D'Andrea Tyson, Dean, Haas School of Business at the University of California at Berkeley; Martin Feldstein, professor of Economics, Harvard. A similar crowd has been trotting in and out of the White House recently to weigh in on tax cuts and entitlement reform when 2/3 of the American population is living paycheck to paycheck. Of these, almost 50 million live in poverty and 20 percent of those are children. Instead of facing this ongoing American tragedy, Washinton's most powerful allies in business and academia debated tax rates. Give me a break! Too often, the rich and powerful try to insulate our presidents from the pain and suffering which results from unemployment or under-employment. They shower the president with political contributions, undeserved accolades and a lot of "happy talk." Their privileged lifestyle devalues their advice. This is evident in the discussion about tax cuts for the wealthy which had no impact on the vast majority of Americans. The continuous flow of their irrelevant advice to our president is contributing to America's slow recovery. Therefore, as the president begins his second term, we should pressure him to reach out for advice beyond the wealthy and privileged, and to seek counsel from a real citizen's committee comprised of Americans who live and labor among that 2/3 of the population who live paycheck to paycheck, because the advice he is receiving from the "job creators" leaves too much to be desired.

FROM THE EDITOR!
 "UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"

According to Article II, Section 2, Clause I of the Constitution, the President of the United States is Commander-in-chief of the United States Armed Forces. Well Mr. Obama, President and Commander-in-chief of our armed forces, why haven't we heard you on TV informing us how you and your advisors are investigating the allegations of the sexual abuse and horror that the young boys in Afghanistan are enduring? You were quick to jump Donald Sterling about his racist rant! You were quick to put your spin on Trevon Martin, and how he could have been your son if you had one! You call yourself a father? You strut around on talk shows? You can't wait to raise money for one B.S. cause or another? Well Mr. President, you wonder why some individuals question your religious faith. You are not acting like a good Christian or a good Muslim or any other religion! Why is that? The media has only mentioned it on the early morning news. It is outrageous that a nation such as our's is allowing this to happen. Our Generals are not wanting to make waves with our allies? Are you kidding me? We are backing a bunch of sexual deviants! Then we wonder why we have trouble with our credibility with the people who live in Afghanistan? I don't understand why our congressmen and senators are not all over this one? We, in the past, prided ourselves for defending the young, the weak, the ill and the old! This is an outrage! We spent $500 million dollars to train 5 men to head the fight against ISIS, only 3 of them are left? Hell, for $500 million dollars, I would have loved the chance to fight against them with a hand picked, well equipped army! When are we going to stop the crap that Washington, D.C. allows. We are represented by nothing other than over paid street thugs with a college education. They talk their crap and smile for the cameras. The reality is, as long as their personal paycheck is on time, they don't give a damn about us or anyone else on the planet. I am saddened that innocent children are paying such a price. In the years to come, they will only remember the abuse, not the Captain that tried to bring attention to their cause. Then as adults, they also will take up arms against the "Big Satan in the WEST"! We need to rethink our position in this war, and the individuals that we put our faith in to do the right thing. No wonder outsiders are ahead in the Polls for the nomination to our Nation's Highest Office!
