IZZY PET CARE
Personalized in home pet care
Hi my name is Isikuri Iniestra (Izzy), as a pet owner I know what it takes to care for ones pets, but with such busy schedules it's hard some-times to find the time. That's why I'm here to help! As a certified care taker I'm trained to provide all kinds of service: walking, grooming, pet sitting, transport to appointments. My years of experience is not limited to my own pets. I have worked in animal hospitals and in households dealing with a wide variety of different animals. Let me be the one to make your pet happy. 760-220-7160

TREVOR'S HAPPY HOUR

ON AIR KCAA 1050 AM

WITH LYLE LESLIE AND DAVE

EVERY FRIDAY 3-4pm www.kcaaradio.com

THIS FRIDAY October, 16th, 2015 from 3-4 pm PST www.kcaaradio.com we will welcome to Trevor's Happy Hour ( with Lyle, Leslie and Dave) ..... Mr. Bill Allen as our guest !!! Thirty years ago, actor Bill Allen starred in a film called RAD – a coming of age story set against the backdrop of BMX racing. Although a failure at the box-office, the VHS release of the film turned it into one of the most successful rentals in history – and turned Bill, who played the main character of Cru Jones, into an underground superstar. Now, Allen is back in the world of BMX-themed movies, co-starring as father to a young biker in the upcoming independent release Heroes of Dirt, being released in hundreds of theatres across the country in September and available on DVD and VOD on December 8. Allen is also working on a new film inspired by RAD where he'll get to ride again as BMX hero. There's simply no limit to the way in which RAD and Cru Jones influenced an entire generation of extreme sports athletes and enthusiasts: there have been parodies of the film on American Dad and The Tonight Show, and Bill's many fans include Comedy Central's Daniel Tosh (who has welcomed "Cru" on episodes of Tosh.O). RAD director Hal Needham (Smokey and the Bandit) once told Allen that none of his films had the remarkable, lasting impact of RAD. Now there are fake Cru Jones twitter and facebook accounts, children (male and female) named "Cru," and even a clothing boutique in Argentina named after Allen's character. But Bill Allen's career also includes roles in films by Robert Altman and Oliver Stone, and co-stars in his early projects include future superstars just getting their feet wet like George Clooney, Miguel Ferrer, Brad Pitt, Brandon Lee, and Allen's lifelong friend and fellow Texan Lou Diamond Phillips. Much to his wife's chagrin, he continues to indulge in his hobbies as an amateur pilot and parachutist. On the ground, meanwhile, Allen is a veteran musician (he toured in a blues band with Phillips for several years), and recently produced a tribute CD for blues legend Bugs Henderson called "The King of Clubs"). He has remained active in his performing career, appearing in independent films and an episode of Breaking Bad. With an appreciation for his unlikely career path and an excitement for the next phase of his career, Bill Allen is an eyewitness to Hollywood and cultural history – and a genuine cult hero ready to embrace a new generation of fans. Tune in Friday! Call us at 888-909-1050 or join us in the chat room at www.trevorshappyhour.com

"The Truth"

By Fred Lundgren
CEO of KCAA Radio

Should Children Be Taught To Trust The Police In All Circumstances?

There are two ideas of government. There are those who believe that if you just legislate to make the well-to-do prosperous, that their prosperity will leak through on those below. The Democratic idea has been that if you legislate to make the masses prosperous their prosperity will find its way up and through every class that rests upon it." Those words were taken from one of the most famous political speeches in American history. It is an excerpt from William Jennings Bryan's "Cross of Gold" speech, delivered on July 9, 1896, to the Democratic National Convention in Chicago. Bryan's words are timeless. They ring true today as they define the forces that pull on both ends of the American capitalist system. Bryan's words reach forward to the 21st century to frame the debate surrounding fair wages for the masses. Conservatives and libertarians often pontificate against a "living minimum wage" and some of late are even opposing any minimum wage. However, as expected, no one opposing a "living minimum wage" has ever been forced to live permanently in a low wage world, and certainly not in the absence of public assistance. The macro economic history of the past three decades clearly shows that state and federal policies have locked in predatory low wages for millions of people by supporting business models that can only flourish by depending upon low wages for profitability and growth. These businesses have replaced better paying jobs that began their exodus with NAFTA and will soon be made worse by the Trans Pacific Partnership which is another way to help trans national corporations exploit the cheapest labor in the world so they can sell substandard crap to Americans at maximum profits without paying taxes in or fair wages in America. These substandard business models are behind the growth of the Wal-Mart class of worker in America. These predatory low wages proliferate from corporate welfare programs and not because the workers are not worthy of their hire. In fact, the growth of corporations that depend on low wages for profitability actually proves the real value of the workers they exploit, instead of the value of the corporate structure that exploits them. The sequestered value of the worker's labor always ends up benefiting the corporation at the expense of the worker and the taxpayer. The whole system is continuously refueled by corporate welfare. Without the fuel, these predatory business models must either fail or reform. NAFTA AND THE TPP ARE NOTHING MORE THAN CLOAKED CORPORATE WELFARE PROGRAMS

The failure of corporate welfare programs is obvious. These programs perpetuate poverty wages while they concentrate wealth at the top of the economy. The past 30-year record of such programs proves without a shadow of doubt that trickle down economics is nothing but a hoax, just as Bryan suggested in 1896. Sadly, the America's wage structure sends the signal to low wage earners of all ages that honest hard work has no personal reward, because the reward for work only benefits those who are caste to profit from labor at the top of the economy and at the risk of burdening the obvious, this caste system is being built on a foundation of corporate welfare. This sinister trap of permanent poverty level wages is snapping shut on a growing number of Americans each year, causing the middle class to evaporate into poverty before our eyes, while these same Americans get blamed by conservatives and libertarians for falling into the trap. If you oppose a living wage law, I suggest you take the minimum wage challenge for one year. Try to live on a minimum wage for one year and then let's talk again. I'll bet your opinion will change.

FROM THE EDITOR!
 "UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"

I wanted to thank Susan and Rob for the great time at the Apple Valley Air Show. Looking forward to it next year. Now down to business. Trump was right! The Democratic debates put me to sleep in record time! I was gone in 26 minutes!!! There are so many issues that I could address, but I don't have the time or space to cover all of them. Clinton had to have a moment with the Trump issue as soon as she got to Las Vegas. She marched herself down to the Trump Hotel to have a confrontation with Donald! Well, that is how the media played it. Trump was not there. She had her moment of glory, with the media, in front of the hotel. I think that she and the other Democrats are scared of Trump, Fiorina and Carson. Sanders is nipping at her heels. You would think, if she really wanted a face to face with the Trumpster, she would have knocked at the front door. She should have been polite and asked if the Trumpster was home and would he like to come out an play! I don't think that this woman, spawn of the Devil, has a clue about what the American People are looking for in our next President. The only thing on Clinton's agenda is to become the first woman President. She was promised that in 2008, but got dropped by the party because the Black Guy was more electable than her. Fact is fact! Washington needs to be turned over and shaken hard to get rid of the crums that are clinging on like the remains of cookies that are in the bottom of the cookie jar. We have 14 months, more or less, remaining thill the next election. We will see many candidates fall to the wayside in both parties. Clinton and Sanders will hang on, in my opinion, and will have to get down and dirty to stay a step ahead. The Republican hopefulls will try to gain popularity within their party, out shining Trump, Fiorina and Carson. I think that these three are the target of the Liberal Media and Politicians. If elected to office, any of the Republican front runners, will put an end to the bottomless gravey boat that the system has been pouring from for decades. Just like our issues here in California with the water shortage, electric and gasoline. Conserve water, better fuel efficient cars and solar powered home will only get you new fees added on to your monthly bills to make up for the short fall in revenue that the State, Water and Power companies are losing since we are more efficient on our end.

No money saved is the bottom line!
