"The Truth"

By Fred Lundgren
CEO of KCAA Radio

KCAA on FM

A Laptop Computer And Microphone Can't Make You A Broadcaster

Since the advent of Internet "streaming" and "podcasting", an increasing number of fact free individuals are populating cyberspace with so called Internet radio stations. Earth to podcasters... HELLO... You are not on the radio so stop referring to your internet stream as a "radio station". Calling yourselves "radio broadcasters" is a misnomer of the nth degree. Please excuse me while I walk into my bedroom closet and express my exasperation with a primal scream, where my audience will be about the same as your podcast, that is unless my two dogs follow me into the closet. Seriously, an internet podcast can't be legitimately compared to free, ubiquitous over the air, terrestrial radio. As the CEO of a real radio station, I think I'm qualified to attest that internet streaming can't replace the most efficient information delivery system ever created, terrestrial radio. The Internet is a modern miracle of point to point communications but it's not radio and it's limitations prevent it from replacing radio until driverless cars allow the brain dead masses to look down at their smart phone for their entire journey. As long as people want access to free information and entertainment services from unlimited professional sources, terrestrial radio will be there to play a leading roll. The numbers of people who listen to terrestrial radio during drive time on I-10 in the Inland Empire region of Southern California totally overshadow all point to point internet streaming in the region. To be sure, podcasters have found a badly needed outlet for their voices with almost no barrier to entry on a platform that could only be imagined 30 years ago and that's a good thing. It's also a good thing that millions of people around the world have a new means to amplify their opinions but neither group has earned the right to compare themselves to representatives of the greatest point to multipoint communications system in the history of the planet.

KCAA 1050 AM RADIO

Sincerely,
Fred Lundgren

FROM THE EDITOR!
"UNSPOKEN THOUGHTS"

Did Ben Carson get invited to West Point for a military scholarship?

Well that is a tough one to prove or disprove! I personally was offered a scholarship to the United States Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. I doubt that after all these years there is any record of that either. Back in the day, the Army, Air Force and Navy were trying to get potential students that showed promise into their programs to become officers in the military. My major at the time was computer programming. As far as the claim about dinner with Westmoreland, who cares? They are looking to hang any Republican who might throw Hillary, and themselves, under the bus! To tell you the truth, that would be one ugly piece of road kill! Just saying! Sanders would be a better choice for the Democrats, and he's a damn Socialist. The country is in sad shape when you can get me to make that statement. Trump is going after everyone that is close to his lead. And, those that aren't. His appearance on SNL has everyone kicking at him. With Clinton, everyone thought that this was a wonderful moment for the word to see a different side of her. Well, I looked, no matter which side I viewed she still looked like a tired old nag. How in the world could anyone in their right mind think that she could or should run our Nation? We have, more or less 18 months till Obama is out of office and our lives. I wonder why The Great Obama did not voice his opinion about the 2 Black Officers who murdered the 6 year old White boy. I mean, after all, Obama is half White! I guess he forgot his roots! If we can all just get past the race card at every turn and pull together to make "All Lives Matter", our Nation will be better off. IF we quit letting "Big Brother" dictate how to raise our children, do our jobs and when to change the "Damn Clocks" on the Day Light Savings, I would be trilled! They have us off balance, with this crap, twice a year. I have heard every reason from it helps the farmers to we use less energy. The farmers never looked at the clock to start with. It is a simple practice, up before the chickens and in for supper when it is too dark to see what you are doing! The "Bastards in Washington, D.C." like the fact that twice a year the citizens are off balance and it takes a couple of months to adjust to it. As long as they keep us out of whack, they don't worry about us paying to much attention to their underhanded dealings to sell us out!
